

When you have a dream you fulfil it by working towards it and not by going to bed and seeing it over & over. This dream of getting into civil services of many aspirants in Assam was slightly realised by Barthakur IAS Academy. They took the noble initiative of not just educating aspirants but also shared the burden of preparation in this difficult journey.

Such initiatives taken by Barthakur Academy have brought supreme access to even the most remote of places and reached every corner of the country. The brilliant team of teachers Shri Anand Ojha, Sir Jantam Rabbani are a boon to the academic strength to the institute. I have personally been guided and learnt under the direct guidance of both the teachers.

The strategy of preparation-revision and last revised by Ojha Sir proved to be my true hammer in this infinity war. Also, the conceptual clarity given by Rabbani Sir in geography helped me capture the gold in my mind throughout.

The students of this academy are blessed to be under guidance of such esteemed teachers. Apart from them, the diverse nature of faculties with area expertise helps deliver best source and knowledge to the aspirants.

And all of it can not be possible without an efficient and dedicated team. The management seems to be very much concerned about every aspirant's dream and so are their acts. They try to prepare you not just for UPSC exams but any competition in your life. The adherence to deadlines, timely classes and focus on appraisals are unique features of this academy as I could see.

I would sincerely offer my regards & respect to Shri Baramya Borthakur for his dedicated efforts towards empowerment of the underprivileged and people who actually need such help. Happy to be part of this team now.

JAI HIND!
