About

Borthakur's IAS Academy

India, as we know, is a vast sub-continent with people of diverse cultures, customs, and traditions. Amidst these diversities, we have a feeling of oneness. This is unique for India amazing the world. India's North have East stolen the limelight of being a region of ethnic diversities in respect of traditions, cultures, and way of life. This entire region is the gateway to South-East Asia. But proper development of these naturally charming regions has still remained a cry to be heeded. Motivation and eagerness for development are to be augmented as well as time-bound action plans are to be formulated. Administrative efficiency coupled with dedication, sincerity, and spirit of development will be the key factors for overall development i.e. infrastructure, communication, and human resource. We have to have dedicated All Indian Civil Service (AIS) officers apart from state service officers who can be vested with the onerous responsibilities of development of this region. We are to produce the officers from our own soils who will better understand the problems of this backward region. The Govt. of India's 'Act East Policy' will go for its success only when these officers can be produced and put into action. But it is also to be borne in mind that in this age of competition, fruitful training and coaching is extremely essential to go for UPSC and APSC, examinations which have become tougher day by day. With a sober objective to provide good coaching and training to young willing generations of this region, Borthakur's IAS Academy was set up in 2014.

Bandana Borthakur

With the best faculties from Delhi, we are constantly trying to provide the best knowledge and training. Soliciting co-operation from all.
